ISM Director William Parsons

Guest Teachers (7 weeks: 16th July - 30th August Class Schedule: 1st & 2nd Class 8:45-10:55 am)

Dennis Balcombe Founder of Revival Chinese Ministries International (RCMI) 16th~19th Jul.

「Christian Missions, Evangelism and Church Planting through the Power of the Holy Spirit」

Since the outpouring of the Holy Spirit at Azusa Street in 1906, Christian Missions has taken an incredible leap in which hundreds of millions have been saved. Yet, even with Christian workers in virtually every nation, millions are still in darkness. It is vital we not only learn principles of missions, learn the culture and language of the people we have been called to and learn how to minister, but that we also come to know the Holy Spirit, receive His gifts and demonstrate the Kingdom of God.

Kazuhiko Yoshida National chairperson of YWAM Japan/ CFNJ Alumnus 22nd~26th Jul.

「Relationships in Missions」

Even while we may be desiring and doing the will of God, the will of God is not limited to just that. There are many important things we overlook with our hearts taken up with spiritual things. Our relationship with people is an important theme unavoidable in continuing our mundane life. Once your eyes are opened to this matter your work on earth will surely become something which is closer to the will of God.

Gerald R. Chester Ph.D President of Strategies@Work, LLC 29th Jul.~2nd Aug.

「Business as Mission」

The global population is over 7 billion people, and there are 400,000 missionaries worldwide. This is only 0.006% of the global population. If 20% of the world's population is Christian and if 60% of the world's population works in the workplace, then 12% of the global population are Christians in the workplace. This means there are 2,000 times more Christians in the workplace than missionaries. Business as Mission is about workplace Christians being envisioned, trained, and mobilized to help make disciples.

Marcos Schultz Missionary to Mexico 5th~9th Aug.

「Missions and Culture」

Jesus became like those He wanted to reach. He ate their food, spoke their language, He laughed at their jokes. He even became susceptible to death. To be effective communicators, we must grasp that the task before us is to first understand the world of the people we want to reach—their beliefs, their values, their customs. All that to say, we need to understand their culture. And then we will be ready to present the ageless Gospel in a way that makes sense to them right there, right now.

Tohoku Outreach (at Minamisanriku Town) 12th~16th Aug.

Takashi Fukuda Spiritual Ambassador, Wycliffe Global Alliance 19th~23rd Aug.

「Swept away by the Great River of God's Love」

God's Proclamation gives us an overview of what God has been doing from eternity to eternity. We will study that Jesus is at the center of history and that the church (followers of Jesus) as the present church age: the Holy Spirit age is invited to God's proclamation. 21st Century preaching spreads out from everywhere to everywhere. The redemption of Jesus includes all three areas, that is, along with the salvation of the soul, and revolutionizing of this world (society), the restoration of the world of creation.

Elmer Inafuku Pastor at Shinjuku Shalom Church, Tokyo, Japan 26th~30th Aug.

「MODERN WORLD MISSIONS AND OMEGA EVANGELISM」

「MODERN WORLD MISSIONS」 We will take a brief look at how the concept of modern world missions has changed drastically in the last century, from being totally western to becoming totally global.

「OMEGA EVANGELISM」 In order to be effective in world missions, we should desire to be effective and lead souls to Christ in our Jerusalem, Japan. Omega Evangelism is an attempt to break through the barrier of disinterest in the Gospel and help Christians in Japan to share salvation in an interesting, effective and inspiring way.

「Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields;
for they are white already to harvest」

John 4:35

ISM Director William and Autumn Parsons
